REGULAR MEETING OF TOWN COUNCIL

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Blairmore town council was held on Monday night, present Mayor McLeod, Councillors Gillis, Martalibetti, McVey, McDonald, Bartlett and P. Carriello and Secretary Wright.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved, and the following account, totalling close to $900, were passed for payment if considered O.K. by the various committees: P. Bartlett $8.75, A. Grant $4.00, Alberta Government Telephone $4.65, Burroughs Adding Machine Co. $6.20, Martin Bonton $9.75, E. Elliott $4.55, J. Davis $44.20, J. Shafer $19.50, W. E. Henderson $60 for painting handstand; F.M. Thompson $206.50, being portion allowed by town on cost of concrete sidewalk in front of their premises; A. Moroney $26.20, Blairmore Enterprise $70.10, Canad's General Electric Co. $31.48, Office of King's Printer, Edmonton, $4.65, for ad. re Tax Recovery Sale; Land Titles Office for extracts of titles $2.05, Post Office Box Rent $18.00, E. J. Pozzi $83.08, E. J. Pozzi $31.97, J. E. Gillis $249.99, Petty Cash $22.40.

Communication from the Workmen's Compensation Board, relative to the necessity of officials of fire department being equipped with gas masks, was tabled for later consideration. Also in connection with regulations governing electric service equipment.

Application of West Canadian Collieries for privilege to install at their own expense a water service line of 4-inch dimensions, extending along South River Street from Second Ave. to a point near Fourth Ave. West, was approved. This line will cost in the neighborhood of $800 and will serve about fourteen cottages. The revenue from the said line will be collected by the Company until such time as they are remunerated for same, a statement to be supplied the town monthly.

A communication was received from Mr. Spalding, secretary of the British Columbia Tourists Association, asking that the town join the Association at a membership fee set at $200. The Council, while in perfect sympathy with the movement, were not in a position to render financial assistance, but would promise their best moral support. In this connection, the committee at Fernie has during the past season done much for the accommodation of visitors and tourists, in the way of laying out free camping sites along the main highway at points where the scenic grandeur of that part of the country could be enjoyed to best advantage.

Communications were received from Messrs. Canadian Order of Foresters and Nays and James, bond holders, acknowledging receipt of payment of all past due coupons. Letter from Nays and James, Regina, stated that they had received Secretary's letter of the 3rd, and were pleased to note that the affairs of the town were in such a satisfactory shape and congratulating the secretary and the administration on their record in this connection.

Plans and specifications submitted by Mark Sartoris, for a store building of fire proof construction to be erected on Victoria Street between Eighth and Ninth Avenues, were approved by the council.

The question of reorganizing a fire brigade occupied the Council's attention for some time and a meeting will be called in the near future to discuss fully the matter.

The meeting adjourned at 11 o'clock.

We regret to learn of the death of John Freebairn, father of A. I. Freebairn, which occurred at Pincher Creek on Wednesday of last week. Mr. Freebairn was 72 years of age and leaves a widow and son.

FAIRHURST LABOR CANDIDATE

At a largely attended meeting of labor representatives, held last week end, Mr. James Fairhurst, of Coleman, was elected as standard bearer for Labor and as candidate for election in the forthcoming federal campaign for Macleod riding.

Three names were placed in nomination, namely, James Fairhurst, Coleman; Joseph Stubbs, Hillcrest; and John Brooks, Bellevue. On the ballot being taken, Brooks dropped out and Stubbs was defeated, whereupon a resolution was endorsed unanimously in support of Mr. Fairhurst.

Mr. Fairhurst has been a resident of The Pass for a number of years and is a prominent figure in Labor circles. Before coming to this country he was connected with the old line of Independent Labor in Great Britain. We understand that already messages have been received from other parts of the Macleod constituency, heartily endorsing the choice of labor.

HOCKEY ASSOCIATION

We are asked to announce that the Alberta Amateur Hockey Association will hold the annual meeting in Calgary on Saturday, November 13th. Every club in the province should hold their organization meeting and appoint delegates to this annual provincial meet. The co-operation of every club is earnestly desired.

TECHNICAL EVENING CLASSES

A special meeting of the local school board was held at the school house on Friday evening last for the purpose of organizing classes in mathematics, mining, motor mechanics and sewing and dressmaking.

The meeting was fairly well attended. Mr. D. A. Campbell, provincial director of technical education was present to co-operate with the board and others interested in organizing this educational service for the community of Blairmore. He explained that similar work was organized in other mining centres, such as Brule, Mountain Park, Cadomin, Evansburg, Nordegg, Banhead, Canmore, Coleman, Edmonton, Lethbridge, Taber and Wayne; and it is expected that other mining places will undertake similar work.

The local board were favorable to establishing technical instruction in Blairmore. It is proposed to hold two lessons per week in each subject, provided ten enroll for each class. The fee to be charged will be $10 per course; but if the number enrolled is larger, the fee will be reduced in proportion. Competent instructors will be in charge of each class.

The work of the provincial Institute of Technology and Art in Calgary was explained by Mr. Campbell. The institute has correspondence courses in mining for fire bosses, pit bosses, managers, engineers. Those wishing to take such courses should apply to the provincial institute at Calgary. It is advisable for those attending night classes in these subjects to enroll also for the correspondence course. Students wishing to enroll for evening classes should do so at the earliest date possible.

It is proposed to hold the first lessons at the school house on Monday evening next at 7.30. The names of all students should be given to the secretary prior to that date. Those who have not done so are invited to attend the opening lessons.

The classes are conducted under direction of the local school board, and the department of education is actively promoting this type of work throughout the province.

"I didn't—no, the two cups. I smashed a bowl once, and two cups. She laughed shamefacedly, and met his eyes. But I soon found that it didn't make me or anybody else any happier, and that it didn't help things at all. So I tried to do the other way. And now, please say you'll forget all this—I've been saying, indeed, Mr. Smith—I am very much ashamed."

"Forget it!" Mr. Smith turned on his heel and marched up and down the room again. "Confound that man!"

"What man?"

"Mr. Stanley G. Fulton. If you must know, for not giving me any of that money."

"Money, money, money!" Miss Magie threw out both her hands in a gesture of repulsion. "I've heard that word once, I've heard it a hundred times in the last week. Sometimes I wish I might never hear it again."

"You don't want to be deaf, do you? Well, you'd have to be, to escape hearing that word."

"I suppose so. But—" again she threw out her hands.

"You don't mean—" Mr. Smith was regarding her with curious interest. "Don't you want—money, really?"

She hesitated, then she sighed.

"Oh, yes, of course. We all want money. We have to have money, too; but I don't think it's—everything is worth it, by any means."

"You don't think it brings happiness, then?"

"Sometimes. Sometimes not."

"Most of—or—would be willing to take the risk—"

"Most of us would."

"Now, in the case of the Hisseldes here—don't you think this money is going to bring happiness to them?"

There was no answer. Miss Magie seemed to be thinking.

"Miss Magie," she exclaimed, "Mr. Smith, with a concern all out of proportion to his supposed interest in the matter, 'you don't mean to say you don't think this money is going to bring them happiness?'"

"Oh, no! This money'll bring them happiness all right, of course—particularly to some of them. But I was just wondering, if you don't know how to spend five dollars so as to get the most out of it, how will you spend five hundred, or five thousand, or—say—and get the most out of that?"

"What do you mean?"

But Miss Magie shook her head.

"Nothing, I was just thinking," she said.

CHAPTER XI.

Santa Clara Arrives.

It was not long after this that Mr. Smith found a tall, gray-haired man, with keen gray eyes, talking with Mrs. Jane Hisseldes and Mellicent in the front room over the grocery store. "Well—" began Mr. Smith, a joyful light of recognition in his eyes. Then suddenly he stooped and picked up something from the floor. When he came upright his face was very red. He did not look at the tall, gray-haired man again as he advanced into the room.

Mellicent turned to him eagerly.

"Oh, Mr. Smith, but she's laughing—he's come—and it's true! It is true!"

"This is Mr. Smith, Mr. Norton," murmured Mrs. Jane Hisseldes to the keen-eyed man, who, also, for no apparent reason, began laughing. "Mr. Smith's a Hisseldes, too—distant, you know. He's doing a Hisseldes book."

"Indeed? How interesting!" The lawyer smiled. "But he's not a Hisseldes, is he? Mr. Stanley G. Fulton here, his name, there was an old constraint in his manner. 'So you're a Hisseldes, too, are you?'"

"Yes," said Mr. Smith, smiling straight into the lawyer's eyes. "But not near enough to come in on the money, of course," explained Mrs. Jane. "He isn't a Hisseldes Hisseldes, just—leaving here, while he writes his book."

"Oh, I see. So he isn't near enough to come in on the money. At this time it was the lawyer who was smiling straight into Mr. Smith's eyes."

"Well, now, leaving here, while he writes his book," said Mr. Stanley G. Fulton here, he begged. "Why—er—you must have seen his pictures, the papers," stammered the lawyer.

"Yes, what was he like? Do tell us," urged Mr. Smith with a bland smile, as he seated himself.

"Why—er—" The lawyer came to a halt more unhappy than before.

"Of course, we've seen his pictures," broke in Mellicent, "but those don't tell us anything. And you know him. So won't you tell what he was like, please, while we're waiting for father to come up? Was he nice and jolly, or was he stiff and haughty? What was he like?"

"Yes, what was he like?" coaxed Mr. Smith, again. Mr. Smith, for some reason, seemed to be highly amused.

"The lawyer lifted his head suddenly. The old flash came to his eyes."

"Like?" Oh, just like an ordinary man, you know, he conceived, of course. "A queer little half-gallop from Mr. Smith, but the lawyer was not looking at it with a smile."

"Centric—you've heard that, probably. And he has done crazy things, and no mistake. Of course, his money and position, we won't exactly say he had lots in his belly—isn't that what they call it?"

Mr. Smith gave a real gasp this time, and Mrs. Jane Hisseldes ejaculated.

"There, I told you so! I knew something was wrong. And now he's come back and claim the money. You see it he don't! And if we've gone and spent any of it—" A gesture of despair followed his exclamation.

"Give yourself no uneasiness on that score, madam, the lawyer assured her gravely. "I think I can safely guarantee he will not do that."

"Then you think he's—dead?"

"I did not say that, madam," I said. "I was very sure he would not come back and claim this money that is to be paid over to his husband and his brother and sister. Dead or alive, he has no further power over that money."

"Oh!" breathed Mellicent. "Then it is—ours!"

"It is yours," howled the lawyer.

"But Mr. Smith says we've probably got to pay a tax on it," thrust in Mrs. Jane, in a worried voice. "Do you know how much we'll have to pay? And isn't there any way we can save doing that?"

Before Mr. Norton could answer, a heavy step down the hall heralded Mr. Frank Hisseldes's advance, and in the ensuing confusion of his arrival, Mr. Smith slipped away. As he passed the lawyer, however, Mellicent thought she heard him mutter, "You rascal!" But afterwards she concluded she must have been mistaken, for the two men appeared to become at once the best of friends, Mr. Norton remained in town several days, and frequently she saw him and Mr. Smith chatting pleasantly together, or starting off apparently for a walk.

Mellicent was very sure, therefore, that she must have been mistaken in thinking she had heard Mr. Smith utter so remarkable an exclamation as he left the room that first day.

During the stay of Mr. Norton in Hillerton, and for some days afterward, the Hisseldes were too absorbed in the mere details of acquiring and temporarily investing their wealth to pay attention to anything else. Under the guidance of Mr. Norton, Mr. Robert Chalmers, and the heads of two other Hillerton banks, the three legions set themselves to the task of finding a place to put it. Miss Flora breathlessly termed it.

Mr. Hattie said that, for her part, she should like to leave her share all in the bank; then she'd have it to spend whenever she wanted it. She yielded to the shocked protestations of the others, however, and finally consented that her husband should have a large part of it in the bank, so no waiting, leaving a generous sum in the bank in her own name. She was assured that the bonds were just as good as money, anyway, as they were the kind that were readily convertible into cash.

Mrs. Jane, when she understood the matter, was for investing every cent of theirs where it would draw the large est interest possible. Mrs. Jane had never before known very much about interest, and she was fascinated with its delightful possibilities. She spent whole days joyfully figuring percentages, and was awakened from her happy absorption only by the unpleasant realization that her husband was not in sympathy with her ideas at all. He said that the money was his, not hers, and that, for once in his life, he was going to have his way. "His money," she said, "is the money that I have bought out of the competing grocery on the other corner, and the establishing of a good-sized bank account. The rest of the money he said Jane might invest for a hundred per cent. If she wanted to."

Jane was pleased to this extent, and asked if it were possible that she could get such a splendid rate on one hundred per cent. She had not figured on that! She was not so pleased later, when Mr. Norton and the bankers told her what she could get with safety; and she was very angry because they finally appealed to her husband and she was obliged to content herself with a paltry five or six per cent, when there were such lovely mining stock and oil wells out there that would pay so much more.

She told Flora that she ought to thank her husband for giving her the money herself in her own name, to do just as she pleased with, without any old story about it, but why the Lord she did not have it, only it would be nice, of course, to buy things to give it—and she supposed she would buy things with it, after a while, when she got to it, and was not afraid to spend it.

Miss Flora was, indeed, quite breathless at the moment of the time, she tried very hard to give the kind gentlemen who were helping her her money, and she showed herself to be always to take their advice. But she wished they would not ask her opinion, and she was always afraid to give it, and she didn't have one, anyway; only she did worry, of course, and she had to ask them sometimes if they were real sure the places they had put her money were perfectly safe, and just what she should do with it, and so on, fronting always to see them smile, and hear them say: "Perfectly, my dear Miss Flora, perfectly safe, and no uneasiness."

To be sure, on day, the big fat man, Mr. Chalmers, did say out: "No, madam, the money is not absolutely guaranteed a government bond—the whole country may be blown to atoms by a volcano tomorrow morning!"

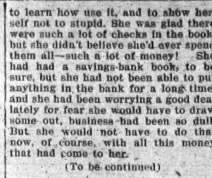

She was startled, terribly startled; but she saw at once, of course, that it must be just his way of joking, for of course there wasn't any volcano big enough to blow up the whole of the States; and, anyway, she did not think it was wise of him, and it was almost his way of saying, "The money is safe, my dear Miss Flora, perfectly safe, and no uneasiness."

Mr. Chalmers, or to the other man with a wart on his nose.

Miss Flora had never had a check book before, but she tried very hard to learn how to use it, and to show her all that to spend, she was glad that she had such a lot of checks in the book, but she didn't believe she'd ever spend all—much—of a lot of money. She had had a savings-bank book to be sure, but she had not been able to put anything in the bank for a long time, and she had been worrying a good deal lately for fear she would have to draw it out, business had been so dull. But she would not have to do that now, of course, with all this money that had come to her.

Albion Farm

Province Was First to Have Karakul Sheep Farm.

At the end of 1920 there were in Alberta fifteen fur farms, with land and buildings valued at $59,000, and the animals worth $139,670, according to a statement which has been issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. There are five hundred and eighty-two fur farms in Canada, of which Prince Edward Island has three hundred and six. At the time the report was issued Alberta had the only Karakul sheep farms in the Dominion, with one thousand one hundred head valued at $80,000 and the lamb crop for the year numbered four hundred.

Fox farms in Alberta show the following animals on hand when the report was issued: 183 silver, $19,500; 98 patch, $9,350; 26 red, $800. The statement only shows two patch fox pelts sold during the year for $300.

Wanted To Be Thought Learned

Paris Workman Who Could Not Read Steals Books.

Jean Marie Moenne, a Paris workman, aged 36, appeared before a police magistrate on a charge of stealing Latin grammars, Euclids and editions of Moliere from the famous bookstalls along the quays of the Seine.

"I wished to make people believe that I was a scholar," was his excuse.

The astonishment of the magistrate, who sent him to prison, was further increased when it was disclosed that Jean could neither read nor write.

Rival of Beaver And Hand saw

Electrically Heated Wire Used to Kill Trees in Canada.

For three years, different beavers, the original tree-cutters, have been tried to cut down a big, black ash, 91 inches in circumference, on Whitefish River. The animals prefer this type of tree as they store the branches and the bark in their holes, and cut lumberjacks wield heavy saws and a tree in quicker time. But now, in the forests of France, a platinum wire made white hot by an electric current is used and the tree is felled much quicker than by beaver or hand saw.

Says Her Recovery Is Almost Like A Miracle

From Helpless Invalid to Complete Restoration of Health, Strength, and Happiness Is Wonderful Change Mrs. Root Experienced in Three Weeks—Statement One of Most Remarkable On Record.

"Just a week before I started taking Tanlac I was down in bed so crippled up with rheumatism I could not move without help. My son had taken Tanlac, and it had done him a world of good, so one day he brought home a bottle and said, 'Mother I want you to take this. When I had finished that bottle I felt like a different woman, and by the time I had finished my second bottle, I was out in the garden hoeing.'"

Tanlac has simply done wonders for me; it almost seems like a miracle. This is the remarkable statement made recently by Mrs. Jennie Root, residing at 1409 Power St., Portland, Oregon, and is only one of the thousands from well-known men and women who are daily testifying to the powers of Tanlac.

"Continuing her wonderful statement, Mrs. Root said, 'For years I suffered terribly with rheumatism, and would often lie down in bed all day at a time. In the last five years there was not a time that I didn't feel those rheumatic pains all through my body. About two months ago I got very much worse and my ankles and legs were so bad I was almost helpless and couldn't even hold a pen to sign my name. I was so weak I could not do any housework. I couldn't even sleep, and had no rest day or night. Even to walk a little way and sit down I could not get up without some one helping me. I had no appetite and hardly ate enough to keep me alive. I could not stoop over far enough to get my shoes on.'"

"I never knew what a night's sleep was, and would lie awake for hours. At last I would get very cold and cold, and the doctor when it was all he could do, and my daughters around me. I was treated by four doctors, and took all kinds of medicine. Nothing ever did me any good. I am just like a different person now. All those terrible aches and pains have left me, and only a few days ago I was able to walk up four flights of stairs in an office building when the elevator was out of order. My appetite is just splendid now, and just to-day for the first time in years, I felt so hungry that I went to go and eat a piece of pie between meals. In fact, I can't remember the time that I have felt so well as I do now. I have not only regained my health and strength, but I have gained weight. Tell you the truth, I wouldn't exchange the benefit I have received from Tanlac for the best ranch in Oregon, and I will praise it as long as I live.'"

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

I'm So Tired

Fatigue is the result of poisons in the blood. So when the kidneys fail to purify the blood one of the first indications is unusual and persistent tired feelings and pains in the back.

Neglected kidney troubles lead to years of suffering from rheumatism or develop into such fatal ailments as Bright's disease.

The kidney action is promptly corrected by use of Dr. J. C. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills—the best known regulator of kidneys, liver and bowels.

Mrs. John Ireland, R.R. No. 2, King, Ont., writes:

"I was a great sufferer from severe headaches and lumbago—pains in the back and a new person. I was very grateful to Dr. Chase's medicines for what they have done for me, and to you for my letter for the benefit of others."

The foolish man who built his house on the sand—

He gave an example in folly which anybody can understand.

It isn't so easy, however, to sense the mistake of trying to build the body on foods which lack essential nourishment.

Here, again, is a foundation of sand which gives way when the test comes.

Many a food that tastes good lacks honesty of nourishment to equal its taste. Thus it tempts the appetite into mistakes that often are costly.

Grape-Nuts is a food which helps build bodily endurance for life's stress and storm. The full nourishment of wheat and malted barley, together with the vital mineral salts so necessary to bone structure and red blood corpuscles, with phosphates for the brain, is retained in Grape-Nuts. The long baking process by which Grape-Nuts is made gives the food a natural sweetness and an unusual ease of digestibility and assimilation.

Served with cream or milk, Grape-Nuts is fully nourishing, and whether eaten as a cereal at breakfast or lunch, or made into a pudding for dinner, Grape-Nuts has a particular delight for the appetite. Sold by grocers.

A Handsome Ermine Wrap

By Marie Belmont.

A sumptuous fur wrap is always a serviceable addition to the fashionable woman's wardrobe. This season there are many appealing creations in styles that are decidedly distinctive. This model is made of ermine. It is elaborated with a ruffling cape that swings from the back of the collar. The sleeves are very wide at the cuff. A most striking effect is attained by the use of a black for collar. This reaches almost to the waistline, decreasing in size as it reaches this point. The black fur is also introduced on the lower edge of the cape, where it accentuates the ripples.

The Company Meal

BY LORETO C. LYNCH
An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

There are times when the mistress of the home wishes to prepare something a little different, and a little more expensive because "company is coming," and she wants suggestions as to the unusual. Of course, it is better to plan a few expensive dishes than to try to serve many mediocre ones, that require much time to prepare and find the hostess quite worn out upon the arrival of the company.

For a mixed company with those tastes you are not entirely familiar with, a fruit cocktail makes a good starter. Most people like fruit, while there are some who do not care for the seafoods and some places where the seafoods are not obtainable. It has been my observation that the manner of serving has quite as much to do with the success of a fruit cocktail as has the content. The tall, stemmed cocktail glass is ideal. One of the shops was showing some of these glasses with a heavy gold border at the rim. It was of the thinnest glass with a pretty design running through it.

Practically any of the fruits, common or exotic, will do. The banana, however, is likely to discolor if the mixture is exposed to the air for any length of time. One particularly attractive fruit cocktail is made by soaking the prepared pieces of orange, grapefruit and pineapple in grape juice for an hour or so before sprinkling with powdered sugar. The fruit should be lightly leaped with the chilled sauce, the fruit itself being thoroughly chilled before serving. The glass is stood upon either a linen or one of the pretty paper doilies. The fruit cocktail is set before the meal is announced.

Asparagus soup is liked by most people. This may either be made with the fresh or the canned vegetable. The asparagus is cooked until it is soft enough to be forced through a strainer. The stock should be half a measuring cup for each serving. As much milk as there is stock is added. For six cups of liquid add two level tablespoons each of flour and butter rubbed together until smooth. Cook, stirring until the mixture boils.

The soup may be served either in soup dishes or in bouillon cups. The prettier the cups the more appreciated will be the contents.

Fairy salad bread may be cut into slices and then into tiny cubes and set on a plate in the oven or broiler to toast. These are either passed with the soup or sprinkled over each filled soup plate just before serving. These also crackers are suitable with soup instead of the toasted bread cubes.

The main course comes next. Fried breasts of chicken with tiny stuffed peas is a good choice. It is better than roast beef or beefsteak in that the hostess does not have to figure out if one guest will like the meat rare, another well done and so on.

If you select broiler chickens, have the butcher cut off the breasts of as many chickens as you have guests. If you buy roasted chickens, have but half as many breasts as there are guests. The remainder of the chickens may be cooked in any desired way and used up at some of the other meals prepared for the family on non-company days. But the breasts should be wiped off with a damp cloth, then sprinkled with salt and pepper. Each should be dipped in beaten egg and either sifted bread or cracker crumbs. The breasts thus prepared should be fried in deep fat until a golden brown. Cream gravy, peas and French fried potato balls in nests of watercress are suitable accompaniments.

Ice cream and cake are liked by most people. Sponge cake is a particularly happy form of choice to go with ice cream. Even if you buy your ice cream you will probably want to make your own sponge cake. Into a bowl put the yolks of three eggs. Beat until light and lemon colored. Beat in three-fourths of a measuring cup of powdered sugar. Add two tablespoons of lemon juice to which a little grated rind has been added. Slip into the bowl the stiffly beaten whites of the three eggs. Upon these sift three-fourths of a measuring cup of flour, sifted before being measured. With a knife cut in the flour and egg whites. Bake in an ungreased pan in a moderate oven, ten to twenty minutes, depending upon the thickness of the cake and the shape of the pan.

LABOR

During the two weeks ending August 12, the volume of employment remained stationary as compared with the previous two weeks, and was about of a mid winter level. This is the latest report for which definite statistical information from the Dominion Government is available, but unofficial reports as to subsequent conditions tell the same story. During the latter part of August and the early weeks of September, there was no perceptible change in the situation. Additional factories closed down for varying periods, but an equal number resumed or started operations. The substantial increase in employment on transportation industries, due to the crop movement, did not suffice to make a material decrease in the number of unemployed, and under such conditions wage adjustments are proceeding. From a centre of lumbering activity in Northern Ontario, it is reported that men are anxiously seeking to be sent to camps at wages varying from $25 to $30 per month, as compared with $75 and $80 only a year ago, when it was difficult to obtain labor even at that rate. Up to August 27th, 1921, the Dominion Government had expended $26,000,000 on the relief of unemployment, and as under arrangement with the municipalities and provinces, this is one-third of the amount of public aid, the total expended for the purpose must have been $1,515,000. The congestion in the labor market has no doubt been accentuated in some measure by uncertainty as to harvesting requirements, but as noted above, this situation is gradually righting itself. Bank of Commerce Commercial Letter.

WORDY WAR ON WOMEN

We remember a few months ago that Lady Astor was described in the British House of Commons by Colonel Arthur Shee as a "capricious and illogical, but charming woman." In a debate on the labor party's franchise bill, Lady Astor and Mr. Sugden, a labor member, argued for an extension of the franchise to women of twenty-one, but that so aroused the Unionists and Tories that Sir Frederick Banbury moved to make the age twenty-five, remarking that the longer any person, especially a woman, lived in the world the more capable she was of voting. Colonel Shee suggested twenty-nine by stating, amid the laughter of the house, that women were "captivatingly capricious," "fascinatingly futile," "irresistibly irrational, ingeniously inexperienced, politically unphilanthropic, and wholly and charmingly incomprehensible," and therefore he did not want to have her nose in politics and to know what she was about. Sir Frederick Banbury declared that when the present franchise act was passed it was stated that women did not want to sit in parliament, Lady Astor retorted: "We women didn't say so," to which Sir Frederick sarcastically replied: "English women did," and the House exclaimed: "Oh!" But Lady Astor was silent.

came home very successful.Mrs. (Dr.) Davis entertained at they expect to spend the winter, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. R.

Powell over the week end.The dance given by the Junior Hockey Club on Friday evening last was well patronized. We must congratulate the boys on the manner in which everything was managed and we are glad to report that the affair was a decided success financially.A number of Coleman people went to Hillcrest on Saturday afternoon last to witness the final football game for the Crahan Cup, and were interested to see that Coleman represent of the play near the Blairmore goal, although we are sorry to report that Coleman was unable to score and Blairmore won by one goal and thereby gained the Crahan Cup.RED CROSS STRONG IN SOUTHOn her return from a recent trip of inspection in the Southern part of the province, Mrs. C. B. Waagen, Honorary Secretary of the Alberta Branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, brought back a great deal of valuable information from the districts she visited. As a result there has been a decided impetus to the organization of Red Cross units. The Junior Red Cross is spreading as fast, if not faster, than the senior organization.In many of the schools the pupils won the Lieut.-Governor's banner for 100 per cent enrollment in the Junior work. Many new cases are now in sight for the Junior Red Cross and they will need all the money they can earn this winter in order to give treatment to the boys and girls who need it. The Juniors devote themselves entirely to raising money for the treatment of crippled and sick children of the Province, whose parents may not be in a position to send them to a hospital. They have many achievements on their record and expect to accomplish many more during the winter.Many of the schools in the Province are still competing for the Lieut.- Governor's banner for 100 per cent enrollment and for the certificate of 75 per cent. As soon as they decide to organize, the Junior Department at the Provincial Headquarters in Calgary, sends them instructions and helps them get going.Fire at the Moravian Mission of Nain, Labrador, destroyed the entire season's fish catch of that part of the coast recently. The loss is estimated at upwards of $550,000. Goods destroyed included furs, salmon, trout, oil, flour, beef, pork and other provisions.THE PASS FIFTEEN YEARS AGO(Blairmore Times, August, 1906.)

of the Hillcrest mines, expects to leave shortly for the Big Horn Basin in Wyoming, to accept a position with S. W. Gebb, who is opening up a coal property there.A nice row is now on between Mike Rosse and the Lethbridge Brewing Co., over a wholesale license granted in respect to the Brewing Company's building here on the application of Rosse, who wants the license for his own building.J. A. McDonald, district secretary for the United Mine Workers of America, returned from a business trip to Camrose. That camp has been in a state of unrest for some time, but thanks to the efforts of Secretary Mc-Donald, all differences there have been amicably adjusted.August 18—Sailor Jack, a local character, was up before Justices Beach and Disney on Tuesday, charged with tampering with goods behind the bar of the Grand Union hotel and was given four months.A tramsman's ball will be held at Lila on August the 23rd.The trustees of the local school have just installed a complete set of the latest maps.C. F. Harris and daughter Eva, of Macleod, were visitors here the first of the week.J. A. McDonald, of the Sun Life Insurance Co., is visiting The Pass town this week.The Hillcrest mines are at present idle, owing to a dispute between the management and employees.W. R. Warn, of Frank, and Miss Harriet Mills, of Derby, England, were united in marriage last Sunday by the Rev. R. A. Robinson.A two-story school house is to be erected here at once and is to be fitted up with the latest appliances in the shape of desks, etc. Debentures are to be issued to the amount of $3000 to cover the estimated cost.While the Crows' Nest Pass town may furnish the largest number of licensed hotels in Southern Alberta, the town of Pincher Creek furnishes nearly all the interdicted persons in the license district.Robert Kerr, who had lately taken up a homestead near Lundbreck, while leading a horse to water was dragged to death by the horse. Deceased was about twenty years of age and leaves a father and mother to mourn his untimely death.The building of a cement works in the Pass by the Crows' Nest Pass Cement Works Co., which are to be erected in the canyon near the present site of the Sanitarium, will add another payroll to the district. These works will not only employ a large number of men, but will be a big financial success for their owners. No place in the whole of Canada can offer so many natural resources for the manufacture of Portland cement at small cost than the site selected, and one of the largest growing markets on the continent is easily accessible for the finished product.HILLCREST HAPPENINGSW. Yates has purchased the house on Davis Street, formerly owned by gary hospital (Col. Belcher) for medical treatment.Ed. Royle was a visitor to Calgary for several days in connection with several compensation cases.Mr. Stevenson, the general manager, was expected to sail from Scotland for home on the 7th.Dr. and Mrs. H. A. McDonald are enjoying a few days holiday, taking in the sights of Calgary and Edmonton.The housing situation is very acute at the present time, but we hope that the building boom will relieve it shortly.Work is being pushed on the new school house, so as to have it ready before the cold weather starts in.

When finished, it will be quite a credit and asset to the hamlet.The young man, Alex. Seaman, who met his death in a motor accident near Lethbridge, was well known here, having several near relatives residing in Hillcrest. John Glean, he driver of the car, is one of the partners in the Hillcrest pool hall.Jack O'Neill, of Blairmore, was a visitor in Hillcrest on the 8th inst., sizing up the situation for next pay-lay. Professor Conway, the golf expert, was unable to be with him, owing to perambulator tire trouble at Blairmore.Strenuous efforts are being made by some of the new store owners to be in shape for opening for business for next pay day, the 15th. When all these new places are completed it will not be necessary for any of the eastern mail-order houses to circulate their catalogues in Hillcrest any more.Arthur Thomas and Oscar Keiver, celebrated oil experts and geologists, have returned after a long stay in Alabama. If reports are true, they have taken options on a large tract of land near old Passburg, where they intend to drill in the near future.
If their efforts are successful, it will be a good thing for this district and will no doubt lower the price of gasoline as charged by the different garages.DE DUCKS GOT ALL THE PROFITA farmer recently sold his corn and

Items of Local and General Interest

The town of Athabasca has been given an extension of thirty years in which to meet its bonded debt.

Mr. H. Burns, manager of McLaren Lumber Co.'s operations, returned Tuesday morning from a business visit to Calgary.

Penny, isn't it? Just as you are making up your mind to stay at home, your wife is making up her face to go out.

A dance will be given in the opera house on the night of November the 11th, under auspices of the Blairmore Football Club. A good time is promised.

Something funny happened a night in a local boarding house last night. She dreamt she was eating shredded wheat and when she woke up half the mattress was gone.

Seems that autos have a spite for Chinamen, for in Calgary a few days ago two autos of the same mind decided to leave the street, jump in on the sidewalk and jointly kill a Chin.

A party of surveyors are surveying the line between Alberta and British Columbia, some of the markings of which were recently obliterated by forest fires.

Crime in Canada during the year 1920 increased twenty-five per cent over 1919, according to figures compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The increase was, however, for the most part in minor offenses.

A kid at the local school suggests that the fuller the moon, the more moonshine. But isn't it peculiar that in spite of this fact the police wait for the dark nights to search for moonshiners?

After climbing the fire escape of the King Edward hotel at Calgary to the sixth story, an unidentified halfbreed of about 24 years of age turned around and calmly jumped to his death below.

The case of Sgt. Nicholson against E. Piccarilli occupied the time of the court on Saturday last and was finally dismissed. Judge Morrison sat on the case in the absence of Judge Robertson, who was ill. Solicitors Harris and Gilles represented the legal fraternity.

Ray of Hope Rebekah Lodge at Bellevue was visited last night by the President of the Rebekah Assembly of Alberta. Following the meeting a social evening was spent there being upwards of one hundred Oddfellows and Rebekahs present. Tonight the president will visit Crowview Rebekah Lodge here, when a record attendance is anticipated.

The origin of the fire which occurred at McLaren's Mill on Saturday last, doing damage to the extent of probably $2500, is as yet unknown. Fortunately, the flames were kept away from the enormous piles of lumber in the yards, the lumber destroyed being some distance away from the main stock. Women and apparatus from Blairmore and Coleman responded promptly and did good work.

December 6th is the date set for the Federal elections.

It is reported that Hon. W. A. Buchanan will again contest the Lethbridge riding in the Federal election as an independent Liberal.

Ab. May, who owns the "Union Bank," has moved that building from Passburg to Bellevue, where he promises to stay with it for a while.

S. F. Wallace, former hotel man of Fernie, spent a couple of days in town this week. Mr. Wallace expressed himself as agreeably surprised at the growth and prospects of our town.

The crying evil of the young man who enters the business world today is the lack of application, preparation, thoroughness, with ambition but without the willingness to gain his desired end.

The Enterprise has on hand some very attractive samples for 1922 Calendars. Orders taken for delivery not later than November 30th. If you have not already ordered a supply, or if your supply is inadequate to meet your needs, leave your order with us now.

Mr. W. Moser, of Athabasca, has located in Bellevue, where he will take charge of the Bellevue Jazz Orchestra and run a series of dances in the Pass this winter. Mr. Moser also teaches the cello and violin, and will be willing to spend a day in Blairmore each week if he can get enough pupils to warrant him doing so. He will also be glad to get pupils at Coleman and would be willing to spend a day each week there.

There are more people who sponge from newspapers than from any other service.

When a man comes into the world he receives a free ad; when he dies his bad debts are forgotten by the charitable editor. All during his life he asks and receives favors from the newspapers. If they speak well of him, the flattering notice is received in silence. If his acts are criticized he talks of a suit for damage. He desires favorable mention and desires it often. In fact, some men have an idea that a newspaper can run expressly to keep them before the public, and that too, without money and without price.

Bill Nye, a real old-timer of the Pass, once ran the following advertisement in a local paper: "Owing to my ill health, I am calling at my residence one plumb raspberry cow aged 8 years. She is of undoubted courage and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form he would be a great boon. She is much attached to her present home with a stay chain, but will be sold to anyone who will treat her right. She is one fourth short-horn and three fourths hyena. I will also throw in a double-barrelled shot gun, which goes with her. In May she usually goes away for a week or two and returns with a tall red salt with wobbly legs. Her name is Rose. I would rather sell her to a non-resident."

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION DUE?

We understand that the accident which happened at Bellevue last week will result in the victim losing completely the sight of both eyes.

A big dance is to be given in the Tustian hall at Cowley on the night of Friday, October 21st, under the auspices of the North Fork Polo Club.

It puzzles us to know how a man can be pessimistic about the future of Blairmore when even little tots at the local school have an idea that pretty soon Blairmore will be like London—in size, of course.

It seems a sin to tag the small income of Sir John Eaton for the upkeep of our country. Of course, there's considerable consolation in knowing that a percentage of our rural population assist him to pay the tax on his nearly $449,000 earning for 1920.

A factory will shortly be erected at Edmonton for the purpose of manufacturing fence posts from straw by a secret process and a solution known as stoneite. George Lund, of Vancouver, is back of the project.

"Fatty" Arbuckle will stand trial on a charge of manslaughter, the charge of first degree murder being dismissed. When Judge Lazarus made the decision dismissing the action there was the usual crowd of sentimental faces and a crowd of snoring, snoring women at the mental light-weight variety rushed to kiss the fat man. Why women wish to kiss criminals has never been scientifically explained, but this trait is one common in every age and generation and is enacted in nearly every instance where an alleged murderer has escaped conviction.

More brutal the tragedy, the more anxious are the women to pay homage to the murderer. Of course all women are not imbued with such abnormal propensities, but there are a lot that are—Exchange.

THE MINING INDUSTRY

An official estimate of the value of the production of metallic minerals in Canada from January to June, 1921, is $24,264,423, or 32 per cent of the total value of production of 1920. During these six months the production of gold, lead and zinc exceeded that of 1920 in volume, but in the case of all other metals, particularly nickel and copper, the volume was less.

The total gold production of Canada during the first six months this year amounted to 336,391 fine ounces, worth $5,104,129, on the basis of the standard value of gold, all this amount being taken by the Royal Mint, Ottawa, which pays for it in New York funds. At present the chief gold mines are operating almost at capacity and under more favourable conditions than during the first half of the year.

The output of coal from all Canadian mines for the same six months was 1,278,957 tons, as compared during the corresponding period last year, but was 8 per cent in excess of the same period in 1919, while the quantity of coal exported during this period in 1921 was 889,004 tons, valued at $32,882,958, as compared with 1,278,957 tons during the corresponding period in 1920, and 248,496 tons in that of 1919. On the other hand coal imports increased substantially, the tonnage from January to June, 1921, being 8,219,246, as compared with 6,768,709 and 6,723,757, in 1920 and 1919, respectively.

Sales of asbestos for the half year were valued at $2,708,338, an amount considerably below the normal figure. Towards the end of the half year, more labour became available and a livelier market opened up, owing to greater activity in building operations and a decrease in stocks in the hands of manufacturers—Bank of Commerce Commercial Letter.

BLAIRMORE WINS FINAL IN CRAHAN CUP SERIES

The deciding game in the Crahan Cup series was played on neutral ground at Hillcrest on Saturday afternoon last, when Blairmore won from Coleman by a score of 1-0.

Coleman won the toss and elected to play with the wind and sun in their favor. Ramsey kicked off and McInnis from a pass by Jones took the ball up the field and crossed. The inside man failed to make use of it and the ball went past and Blairmore missed a great chance of scoring. Coleman had to defend for a time, as Blairmore was proving the better team. As the game went on, Coleman came more into the light and had several shots at the goal, but their shooting was poor, the only man to trouble Blairmore's goal-keeper being the inside right with a drooping shot, in which the goal-keeper gave away a corner easily cleared. Blairmore's inside right let Ramsey away, and after clever work he sent it across for his inside man to shoot, but this shot was blocked and Coleman forced the game to the other end. The Blairmore defence had to be at their best to keep Coleman forwards from scoring. The pressure was relieved for a time, but Muir on left brought the ball back again and a mix-up of the Blairmore defence nearly let their side down, the goal-keeper saving with nothing to spare. The ball was forced to the other end, but Jackson relieved and sent the ball well out to right wing, who centered and McVey struck the ball with his hand, giving a penalty. Fairfield took the kick, but sent past the post. The inside left got the ball from the by-kick and, passing it to McInnis, let the outside left away. He put across, but there was no one there to shoot. The ball came back to Blairmore end again, but the defence was too strong for the Coleman forwards, giving them no chance to shoot, and half time arrived with no score.

The second half had only been five minutes gone when the Coleman goal-keeper, taking his foot to the ball, banged it against the centre forward, and going into the net, lost to an easy goal. Blairmore continued to press after this for a time, but Jackson relieved the pressure and let his forwards away, only to be sent back again. Fairfield and Bell were not too safe and gave away several corners. McInnis placed a beauty in front of the goal and Rudd missed an easy chance to score. The ball was passed out to Sudworth, who centred, but his centre was not made use of by his inside man. McVey gave Rhodes a nice pass and with clever work let his outside man away, and beating Bell, sent across and Rhodes shot, but the inside of the post came to the rescue of Ford, who was lucky to give away a corner. The corner proved fruitless and the ball was passed out to Muir, who centred, and Kennedy intended to clear gave away a corner. But this corner was badly placed and McInnis, in running down the left, sent across to Ramsey, who shot past the post.

There was not much to choose between the two teams. Blairmore was sound in defence and kept the Coleman forwards from becoming dangerous. Jackson, who had been playing a good game, let his forwards away, giving Yates a good chance. He sent the ball out to Muir, who centred, the goal keeper putting it over the heads of the Coleman forwards saved the situation. Coleman was playing hard to equalize, but without success, the ball travelling from end to end without any further scoring, and Blairmore retired winners after a hard game, just a shade the better team.

H. Fisher handled the game very well. The best men for Coleman were Jackson, Muir and Dunlop, while Blairmore's best were McAndrew, McVey and the forward line, which was very good. The teams were as follows:

Coleman — Ford, Fairfield, Bell, Roughhead, Jackson, Sudworth, Burns, Yates, Jenkins, Dunlop and Muir.

Blairmore — Whitelaw, Martin, Mc-

ORPHEUM THEATRE HAS GOOD PICTURES BILLED

Mr. P. Ubertino, of the Orpheum theatre, is doing his best to give the patrons of his show the best pictures possible. He is busy all the time booking productions for the coming winter and needless to say, he knows exactly the kind of shows that will attract the people here and, he is sparing no effort to get ahold of them. The long winter evenings are hard enough to spend at the best, but with an attractive show at the Orpheum, no difficulty should be experienced in the future of spending these long evenings.

The program he has billed for the next few days is as follows:

Friday—Mary Miles Minter in "Don't Call Me Little Girl." It is a rollicking story of a girl who is babyed, but becoming tired of that she decides to grow up and get married. You will get all the laughing you want for one evening. The eleventh episode of "The Whirlwind" will also be shown.

Saturday—A story of the romantic north woods, "The Magnificent Brute" starring Frank Mayo. There is also two reels of Century Comedy.

Monday—A Paramount Artcraft picture by H. Boshworth, entitled "Behind the Door." It's a story of the sea and will supply lots of action for all. The ninth episode of Eddie Polo in "The King of the Circus" will be shown also.

Wednesday—"Molly and I," starring one of the most beautiful actresses on the screen, Shirley Mason. The picture is said to be the most charming comedy of the year.

The Importance Of Encouraging Western Settlers

The many advantages that would accrue to Canada from the settlement of the vast unoccupied areas of fertile agricultural lands in the West are fairly well recognized by all people, yet the work of peopling these vast lands languishes and proceeds almost at a snail's pace.

There is hardly a Canadian problem today, the solution of which, wholly or largely, is not to be found in a large increase in the population of the country.

It is the huge national debt created by the war and the consequent heavy burden of taxation? The solution is not so much in decreased expenditures or newer and additional means of revenue, but in a larger number of people to produce new wealth and to carry a share of the national load, thereby reducing the burden all round.

Is it the problem of making the National Railway pay? The solution is not to be found in higher rates for passengers and freight, which would operate to further decrease traffic, nor solely in economies in management and operation, to which there is a limit if efficient service is not to be destroyed, but through increased population and increased production creating greater traffic to keep the railways profitably busy.

Is it a steady output for our factories and uninterrupted employment for Canada's artisans? The solution is more people in Canada requiring the output of our factories.

Older countries, already blessed with fairly large populations, can well depend upon the natural increase of their people. But not so a young country like Canada, an empire in itself covering half a continent and possessing untold wealth in untouched natural resources. Canada now requires, and for many years to come will require, just what the United States required throughout the Nineteenth Century, and that is a large and steady stream of immigrants. The United States, with its more than one hundred million people, can now afford to check the stream, but Canada needs to encourage it.

In the ten or fifteen years before the war, immigration poured into Canada at a rate never experienced prior to that time. The mere handful of people in the West doubled, tripled, quadrupled; unorganized territories became flourishing provinces; hamlets grew into towns, towns were transformed into thriving cities. Why? Because the incoming settlers brought money and goods with them, settled on vacant lands and began to produce. As they produced new wealth from the soil, the demand for the factory products of the East grew by leaps and bounds. Factories which had remained at a standstill in volume of production year after year, or grew so slowly that it was almost imperceptible, suddenly found it necessary to build a new storey, an addition, or a new building altogether in order to meet the demand. Labor was at a premium and unemployment practically unknown. The railways were congested with more traffic than they could handle. More railways had to be built, and thus more employment was created. The mines were busy and so was the lumber industry. It was all directly traceable to the immigration and the enormous resultant increase in agricultural production.

With so recent an object lesson before the country it is amazing to find a very large number of people opposing immigration to Canada now when, in order to carry the burdens imposed on the Dominion by reason of the war, the need for more people and largely increased production is so evident. Restrictions have been placed on immigration to Canada, which were undreamed of a few years ago, and are of such a character that, as one speaker at a recent public meeting said, had they been in force at the time our parents and grand-parents immigrated to this country, probably one-half of the people now here would not be here. Stringent as present restrictions are, there is persistent demand in quarters that they be made even more stringent, while some advocate absolute prohibition of immigration.

Possibly the immigration laws of both Canada and the United States were too lax in the past in one respect in that the bars were not kept up against the admission of the diseased, the mentally and morally deficient, and the criminal class. All such should be rightly excluded. But lack of money should not be made a deterrent to anybody who is physically fit, morally sound, and mentally efficient, capable and willing to work.

In another respect, too, Canada was at fault in the past in its treatment of new comers. It is not sufficient to induce people to come to assist in the development of the country and on their arrival to leave them to shift for themselves, which so often led to the entire breakdown of their lives through ignorance of the conditions and customs of the land of their adoption. A recent little "Manual of Citizenship" issued by the Department of Immigration and Colonization for the guidance of new arrivals is, therefore, an encouraging innovation. In fact, the change in name from Department of Immigration to "Immigration and Colonization" is in itself significant as an indication of a new and better policy. It is important, however, that the work of immigration should not be stopped or checked by too rigid laws and regulations. On the contrary increased efforts should be put forth to secure new settlers of the right type.

England Wants More Hens.

England needs 4,000,000 more hens in order to get back to the eating consumption for 1912 of 120 eggs per person, asserts Edward Brown, secretary of the National Poultry Council. Mr. Brown says that in the United States and Canada it is stated the average consumption is nearly 200 eggs per unit annually. Basing his estimates on the recent census figures for Great Britain, he computes that each person in England last year ate 95 eggs.

Proves Irrigation Is a Success

Man in Third Season Owns Farm and Equipment.

Proof of success in the irrigated section in Alberta is exemplified in a farmer named Williamson. After working as a hired man he rented an engine and ploughing outfit on an acreage basis and with the proceeds of one season's ploughing purchased an irrigated farm at eighty acres and broke it. In the fall he bought a threshing machine and paid for it through the proceeds of the season's threshing operations. This is his third season's farming and he owns a farm, threshing and ploughing outfit and tractor, all fully paid for.

More Acres Seeded To Rye

Estimated That Crop of 1922 Will Be Large.

It is estimated that Southern Alberta and Southern Saskatchewan are this year seeding about 850,000 acres to fall-planted rye, as compared with 350,000 acres last year, an increase of about 500,000 acres, or about 185 per cent. It is further calculated that, given an average yield per acre, the rye crop of 1922 in Southern Alberta and Saskatchewan will give the farmers of these districts three or four million dollars more than they will receive this year.

Webb, Sask. Captain Charles Swift, leader of the bugle band of the Queen's Own Toronto Rifles of Canada, has the longest service of any military man in Canada—sixty years in the one regiment. The Militia Department has just marked this service by promoting him to an honorary Captaincy in the regiment. Leading musicians from all parts of the world have congratulated Capt. Swift on the wonderful band he leads.

Curing Plant Diseases

British Government Secures Services of Expert Scientists.

The increase in the world's store of food has become, since the war, a most pressing problem. Men of science have realized for many years that the quantity of vegetable food actually produced could be multiplied if plants were protected from fungus and parasites of all kinds. A similar state of affairs exists in the animal kingdom, with plants which have a commercial value. The British Government has, therefore, decided to establish an Imperial Bureau which will make a close investigation of plant diseases and experiment with methods of preventing or curing them. The services of the highest experts have been secured for this bureau, and the work it is expected to accomplish will be of great benefit not only to the British Empire but to the world at large.

Growing Fuel In Six Years

Many Trees Sailed For Prairies Grow Very Rapidly.

Many of the species which can be used on the prairies are very rapid growers. For example, cottonwood, willow, Russian poplar and Manitoba maple. It is safe to say that wood large enough for fuel can be grown from any of these trees within six years. After that time a plantation will increase in value and productiveness year by year and will prove one of the best investments on the farm.

On the Nursery Station at Indian Head, Sask., a plot three-quarters of an acre in extent was planted out to Russian poplar in 1906, trees spaced four feet apart each way. In 1913 the average height of these trees was twenty-three feet. In the fall of 1913 half the plot was cut down and yielded six and three-quarter cords of quite fair fuel. This is at the rate of about eighteen cords per acre in eight years. The soil was a medium clay loam. The labor cost of planting was $2.85 per acre and cultivation for two years about $6 per year.—N. M. Ross, Supt. of Tree Planting, Dominion Forestry Branch, Indian Head.

GOOD HEALTH AND GOOD SPIRITS

Depends Upon the Condition of the Blood—Keep It Rich, Red and Pure.

When a doctor tells you that you are anemic, he simply means, in plain English, that your blood is poor. That this condition is one that may easily pass into a hopeless decline if prompt steps are not taken to enrich the blood. Poor blood, weak, watery blood is the cause of headaches and backaches, loss of appetite, poor digestion, rheumatism, neuritis, nervous irritability and many other troubles. To poor blood is due the pimples and blotches which mar the complexion and disfigure so many faces. To have good health, a good complexion and a cheerful manner, the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. This is easily done through the use of a blood-renewing medicine like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The whole mission of this medicine is to help enrich the blood, make it more abundant, and every organ in the body, bringing with it health, strength and new activity. That is why people who only casually use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always feel bright, active and strong.

Mrs. E. E. Cook, Simcoe, Ont., gives strong testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when the blood is in anemic condition. She says: "I have been a sufferer for some years from a run down condition of the system. I suffered from pain in the back, twitching of the nerves and muscular, my appetite was poor. I had indigestion, was not getting away from eating. My hands and feet were always cold, and though I was constantly using the medicine I took did not help me. I had practically given up hope of good health, until Dr. Williams' Pink Pills came to my aid, and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. It took some persuasion, but finally I consented to try them. I was anxious to be grateful that I did, for after using seven boxes I felt like a new person. I have gained in weight, have a better color and my work is now a pleasure. For this condition my thanks are due Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I cannot praise them too highly."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 60 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Discover Greek Temple

Inscriptions of Bronze Establish Date of 400 B.C.

Greek archaeologists have unearthed an imposing temple at Herakleia, Thessaly. The structure is in an excellent state of preservation and is stated to be as large as the temple of Jupiter at Olympia. The bronze inscriptions establish the date as that of 400 B.C. Tablets have also been found bearing indications of laws and resolutions of ancient civilization. This is the second temple which has been discovered within a month, the first having been found near the city of Yolo. The excavations are continuing.

Persistence of British Post.

An instance of British postal delay but an equal testimony to its persistency, was the delivery at Prince Albert of J. Harris, an Imperial veteran, of a packet of cigarettes mailed him while he was engaged in the South African War, from England in 1903. The package indicates that during its 15 years rambling it has been to India, New Zealand, and nearly all over the globe.

Immigrants Were Mostly British Born

Fifty Thousand Arrive in Canada in Four Months.

For the four months, April to July, inclusive, the total British immigration into Canada was 26,368, from the United States for the same period, 14,219, and from all other countries, 5,438. Of the United States settlers, the department asserts, the great majority are English-speaking and a large proportion are descendants of British born. Rejection at ocean ports during the four months, April to July, numbered 244, of which only 72 were British.

Banks And The People

Money Is No Longer Hidden, But Put To Work.

The war, with its severe drain upon the resources of the people and its popular loans in which the banks became the direct agents of the Government in dealing with the people, did much to create interest in the banks and to awaken the people to their appeals to the thrift and prudent compromise of the people. The hidden money bag of pioneer days has almost disappeared. The people are putting their money to work. They are coming to the view that their money is merely stored work, with a satisfactory potential earning power, and the more of this there is in the country the better, for life money is as much an evil as idle hands.—The Indianapolis News.

Why No Rainbow In Winter.

Why is the rainbow so frequently seen during summer and so seldom during winter? Its formation, we are told by Professor W. J. Humphreys, the eminent meteorological physicist, requires the co-existence of rain and sunshine, a condition that often occurs during local convective showers but rarely during a general cyclonic storm, and as the former are characteristic of summer and the latter of winter, it follows that the occurrence of the rainbow correspondingly varies with the seasons.

SUFFERING OF YOUNG WOMEN

This Letter Tells How It May be Overcome—All Mothers Interested.

Toronto, Ont.—"I have suffered since I was a school girl with pain in my left leg. I tried to keep it warm, but it grew worse each year until I was ten years old. I was then sent to school, but the pain was so bad at times that I was unable to work. I tried several doctors and patent medicines, but I could get no relief, only for a short time. Some of the doctors wanted to perform an operation, but my father objected. I then learned through my mother of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and how thankful I am that I tried it. I am relieved from pain and cramps, and feel as if I have saved my life. You may write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Medford, Mass., as I am glad to recommend the medicine."—Mrs. H. A. Goodman, 16 Rockvale Ave., Toronto.

Those who are troubled as Mrs. Goodman was should immediately seek relief from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Those who need special advice may write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Medford (confidential), Lynn, Mass. These letters will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

France Anxious For Complete Understanding With Great Britain

London.—The London Times special correspondent in Paris suggests the possibility of renewal and consolidation of the entente through the French and British delegates working together at the Washington conference in the general cause of peace. Relative to the French and British differences he says what the French cannot understand is the persistent neglect of British statesmen to meet them openly and frankly in a spirit of friendly frankness all outstanding causes of difference and strike an honest balance, wherever difference of view is impossible.

"I have reason to believe," adds the correspondent, "that proposals of this nature have repeatedly been made from leading Frenchmen to leading representatives of Great Britain, but no effective response has been noticeable up to the present." Discerning friends of the allied debts in its financial notes, the Times declares it is obvious that as the allies are not in a position to redeem their debt to the United States in the near future, funding operations are inevitable.

"When the United States Government suspends its loans upon Austrian property," the writer further says, "it will be possible to put into effect the project for rehabilitating the economic position of Austria. We have the best reasons for believing that the United States Government is not likely to take any action which would involve abandonment of the Austrian scheme."

Memorial Designs For Battlefield

Canadian Commission Has Received Report From Competitors.

Ottawa.—The Canadian battlefield memorial commission has received a report of the professional assessors upon the competitive designs submitted for eight monuments to be erected on the battlefields in France and Belgium. The competition has been in progress during the past year, and has been participated in by leading architects, sculptors and artists generally. The decision reached by the commission will be communicated to the Governor-General-in-Council, after which the name of the successful sculptor will be announced.

In the first stage of the competition, 160 sets of designs were submitted, and of these 17 were selected for the second stage. The models have all been thoroughly examined by the commissioners.

Instrumental Music And Christian Unity

(By O. E. Payne, Hanna, Alta.)

The dominant issue in Christendom today is the unity of believers. All important denominations, except the Roman Catholics, and nearly all the minor ones, are actively participating in conferences looking to that goal. The discovery of a true and acceptable platform which will serve as a basis is one of chief quests, while the removal of any obstacles to such unity is of no less concern. Questions of creed, ordination, form of organization and government, and the title to property are important factors, but in the minds of both enthusiasts and imbeciles, the question of baptism looms above them all.

There is another issue, not less grave, to which the attention of only the few has as yet been drawn. Omitting the Latin Church, there are almost as many Christians who reject instrumental music as there are who accept it. Those who oppose it do so from principle. They will not employ it, will not worship or have fellowship with those who do, and they base their scruples upon the Scriptures.

Such concede that instrumental music was authorized in the Old Testament, but not in the New, and insist that we are to be guided alone by the latter. They hold that while there is no affirmative prohibition of such music in the Christian Scriptures, they allege that they are our sole and sufficient guide, and that their supposed silence amounts to a prohibition.

An matters have stood, the thoughtful few have realized that this situation constitutes an impasse that must shortly block all progress towards unity, and that the parties who forego instrumental music constitute two of the dozen or so bodies which so hold being the Greek Church, to which most others belong, which church is actively laboring for unity.

Many have assayed to point to a way of escape, but it must be admitted that they have left the riddle unsolved. The King James version and the revised which sheds no new light on the former as regards this question, have seemed to confirm the widely accepted insistence that the New Testament is silent as to instrumental music, and that such music is an innovation.

But all that is changed by the appearance of a remarkable book which has just been issued from the pen of O. E. Payne, of Hanna, Alberta, which is being received with equal joy by those who have conscientiously refrained from using such music. The book is entitled, "Instrumental Music Is Scriptural," and, in a new masterly way that amazes the best informed of both sides, proceeds to show that the New Testament is not silent upon the question, but that Christians are as distinctly directed to employ instruments in praising God as they are their voices in song. The inspired writers employ two Greek verbs, psalms and psalms, to tell us what manner of music to employ. By the consent of all, the first means to sing. As to psalms, the author quotes definitions covering more than twenty centuries, proving that it means to play an instrument. Every instrument, lexicon is included in the long list. Then to guard against the possibility of the lexicons erring, about one hundred and fifty examples of the use of the word are gleaned from Greek writers of the centuries before, at the time of and after the period in which the New Testament was being written. About thirty of these excerpts are from contemporaries of the Apostles, in which the context proves to a certainty that the authors used the word to refer to instrumental music.

Having in these and many other ways established the fact that psalms signified the playing of an instrument, and that therefore when, in Greek Christians are directed to "sing and psalms," they are told to "sing and play," the author proceeds to prove that from the first, translators have so understood the words. A century after the New Testament was written, the Psalter, the first known translation, which Philip Schaff terms "the queen of versions," because of its accuracy, was from the Greek to the Syriac. Throughout it renders the Greek psalms as meaning play instruments. A Coptic translation in like way is also cited.

Four hundred years ago Luther pursued a like course, translating the Greek into "sing and psalms," which, in German, means "sing and play." The several versions of Luther's great translation continue this rendering as do many other German translations, and all the Danish, Swedish, Norwegian and Dutch translations the author was able to find. It is thus shown that the common English versions are exceptional in rendering the two words "sing and make melody," while Rotherham's English and most other modern European translations agree with each other and the last course in rendering the verbs to "sing and play."

In thus removing the cause for scruples which many had, and the impasse as regards music toward which the wide-spread unity movement was rapidly traveling, the author of this work, which is the outcome of years of research in the libraries of two continents, has earned the thanks of Christendom.

The book is equally adapted to the learned and unlearned, and the author, O. E. Payne, Hanna, Alta., deserves credit for the production of this interesting work.

Conference Will Debate On Improvement Of Canadian Livestock

Fall Rye Supplied To Alberta Farmers

Edmonton.—Fall rye has been supplied to farmers in Southern Alberta by the Department of Agriculture to the extent of 19,845 bushels. There were 747 applicants, who were furnished fall rye at an average rate of nearly 42 bushels per man.

More than half the total quantity was supplied to farmers in the Medicine Hat district. Good soil conditions are reported in the greater part of the dry belt.

Could Not Absorb Number Proposed

Australia's Premier Says 20,000 Emigrants All They Could Handle.

London.—A Heuter cable from Melbourne says that Premier W. M. Hughes referring to an interview with the Australian emigration agent cabled from London who is alleged to have recommended the despatch of 100,000 emigrants yearly to Australia from the British Isles said it would be folly to pour such a population into Australia until adequate arrangements have been made for making them wealth producing. Premier Hughes thinks the figure quoted is absurd. In his view, the practical position is that from 12,000 to 20,000 might safely be sent out this year.

No Outsiders In U. S. Merchant Marine

One of Best Purser Discharged Was A Canadian.

New York.—A few days ago, 200 members of the crew of the steamer George Washington were discharged on the ground that they were not citizens and their places taken by men who could "qualify on that ground." One of the men ousted was W. H. P. Mattenson, a Canadian, who was purser on the vessel. Mattenson was regarded as being one of the best pursers in the North Atlantic service, but the rule of the United States Merchant Marine is "no outsiders need apply."

Flooding Of Steamer Still A Mystery

Hull of Canadian Importer Found to Be Intact.

Victoria, B.C.—Cause of the flooding of the engine room of the steamer Canadian Government Merchant Marine, which disabled the steamer more than six hundred miles off the Oregon coast, while the vessel was en route (from Vancouver to Sydney), Australia, still remains a mystery.

The vessel was put into dry dock at Esquimalt this morning an examination of the vessel's hull found her to be intact and her valves in perfect working order.

Ottawa.—A conference of veterinarians to discuss the best means of improving the health of Canada's livestock, is to be called, at Ottawa for Nov. 15 and 16. Probably no livestock producing country in the whole world has a better record for freedom from disease than has Canada, said Dr. Grisdale, deputy minister of agriculture, a condition undoubtedly largely due to its inspection system carried on by the department's health of animals branch. The work of keeping Canadian stock free from disease and giving it an even finer reputation than it now enjoys is not to be done by individuals or small groups in this work, says Dr. Grisdale, which must be done by a centralized organization for all Canada. Accordingly, serious consideration will be given at the coming conference to the formation of a national veterinary association to work in connection with the department.

Representative veterinarians from every province in the Dominion will be invited to attend the conference. The estimated value of Canadian livestock today is $1,078,262,000, and the department believes that any effort to enhance this figure, by national asset must be to the advantage of the whole country.

Motors should be ready by June 7, 1923, and the Aero Club of France has been entrusted with carrying out the competition.

Oil Light Beats Electric or Gas

Burns 94% Air

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 100 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal-oil). The inventor, T. V. Johnson, 585 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg, is offering to test a lamp on 10 day FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, make $300 to $500 per month.

Many Killed In Train Wreck

Cars Take Fire After Collision in French Tunnel.

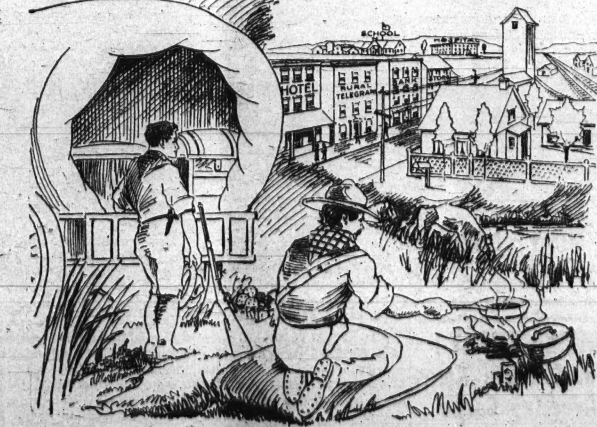

Paris.—Seventeen of those injured in the tunnel wreck have died in hospitals, according to Havas Agency, bringing the total number of dead up to 33. Exploration of the 17 burned cars has not yet been possible, and it is feared that they contain additional victims.

Paris.—A rear-end collision of two suburban trains in the half-mile tunnel leading to the St. Lazare railroad station led to terrifying scenes and the death of many persons bound on their homeward journey from Paris. The wrecked cars burst into flames and the disaster was made all the more terrible by the explosion of a gas reservoir.

Finds England Depressed

People More Cheerful During War Says Dr. Chow.

Toronto.—Dr. S. D. Chow, general superintendent of the Methodist Church, who has just returned from the Ecumenical Conference in London, declares that he has never seen England looking so depressed. "I have been in London under a German raid," said Dr. Chow, "and in the midst of the vicissitudes of the war, but even under those conditions the people seemed to be exultant as compared with their present mood."

PREMIER APPEALS FOR CLOTHING

EDMONTON, Oct. 12.—The Hon. Herbert Greenfield, has issued the following message to the people of Alberta:

"Owing to repeated crop failure in some districts in the southern part of our province, there is need of considerable clothing for the people living within these areas. We find that a great number of children are unable to attend school on account of lack of clothing, and that many have not even enough clothing to be dressed suitably in the house. The parents are not responsible for this on account of any lack of effort on their part; a large acreage was needed in the spring with absolutely no return."

"With the cold weather approaching, there is need of immediate and generous co-operation and assistance from those in the central and northern parts of the province, who have had such abundant returns from their harvest. Clothing of all kinds, and in all sizes, is urgently requested for men, women and children, not forgetting the babies, who will surely suffer most severely for want of garments and footwear, unless assistance is secured without delay."

Looks to the Cities
"We must look to the towns and cities whose prosperity is directly dependent upon the welfare of the farming communities, to come forward at this crisis. It is a well known fact that city folk do not wear out their clothing as thoroughly as those in the country districts, and when one considers that men, women and children in our province, at our doorstep, so to speak, are so urgently in need, we cannot hold back anything we might possibly spare at this juncture."

"For this reason this appeal is being made for the immediate co-operation of the readers, in the collecting of wearing apparel. Will you, within the next month, use every effort to gather all available garments that can be spared and forward at once, express charges collect, to the Red Cross Society, O'Sullivan block, 207 Seventh Avenue East, Calgary."

"Albertans have never yet failed to respond when once a need has been shown to exist, and now will surely be no exception to the rule."
